TRAINING GOALS

The primary goals of the program are to provide criminal justice, mental health, and substance abuse treatment professionals with up-to-date information regarding gender-responsive treatment for criminal justice involved women. Information on women’s needs, setting and implementation of gender-responsive treatment interventions will be provided.

FORUM MODULES

- Module 1: Women In the Criminal Justice System
- Module 2: Gender-Responsive Treatment and Theory
- Module 3: Gender-Responsive Treatment Evidence

- Module 4: Existing Models/Treatment For Women and Trauma
- Module 5: Criminal Justice Supervision & Expectations
- Module 6: Creating A Gender-Responsive Model of Care

PRESENTER DR. NENA MESSINA, PH.D.

Dr. Messina is a Criminologist at UCLA Integrated Substance Abuse Programs and has been involved in substance abuse research for over 20 years. Dr. Messina’s areas of expertise include the specialized treatment needs of women offenders with co-occurring disorders and the association between crime, mental health, and substance abuse.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

A wide audience can benefit from the program including criminal justice officials, newly implemented treatment program personnel, provincial and federal mental health and social service professionals. The program is also beneficial to existing treatment programs seeking to increase staff skills on gender-responsive interventions and improve their outcomes with women. In addition, correctional setting staff will also benefit from the training to increase their understanding of the complex issues surrounding the supervision of incarcerated women.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

The program will raise awareness of the complex needs of women involved in the criminal justice system through an in-depth description of women’s pathways to addiction and crime and their patterns of recovery; a discussion of a trauma and PTSD and the related behavioral, physical and mental health issues associated with such trauma; a clear description of the unique threats to women’s overall health and wellbeing as a result of incarceration or involvement with the criminal justice system; a set of principles that provide a framework for the delivery of effective interventions supporting recovery.
